New Electrical Shop Opened On Cabrillo Ave. This Week

Equipped with one of the most modern sets of automobile motor analyzing machines in the bay district, the Torrance Auto Electrical Service shop, opened for business this week at 1320 Cabrillo avenue.

"We have separate units of equipment for testing each separate system of an auto motor," Fred C. Morgan, owner and manager of the new shop explained.

"By use of these machines, all guesswork in checking inefficiencies of motor operation is eliminated. For instance, you find that a carburetor is giving some trouble," Mr. Morgan motioned to a piece of equipment. "Just connect the Weidenhoff carburetor analyzer to the exhaust and immediately the necessary adjustment of the carburetor, the amount of carbon present in the cylinders, and other such information is registered here."

Mr. Morgan explained that through this modern method of motor analysis a great many hours of expensive mechanic's time used in the trial and error method is saved. "By using different pieces of equipment here in the shop we are able to locate any trouble present in the engine quickly and easily," He said.

Mr. Morgan and his family first came to California in 1923 from Homestead, Penn., where he was in the automobile repair business. Shortly after his arrival on the Pacific coast he established a shop similar to the one he has now brought to Torrance, in South Gate. All in all, Mr. Morgan has had 26 years experience in the automobile business.

He and his wife, two boys and two girls, intend to make their home in Torrance as soon as they are able to find accommodations.

Ed Thompson Initiates New Auto Service

A new and additional service for Torrance motorists was announced this week by E. Thompson, local Chevrolet dealer.

Steam cleaning for automobiles will be featured in the new storage garage of the Chevrolet dealer, located at 1316 Border avenue.

By installing one of the new Pierson & Ryan steam cleaning machines and employing Gordon Northington, experienced washing and polishing expert, to take charge of the new department, Thompson has added considerably to the service that his shop is able to render his patrons.

In addition to the new cleaning plant the use of the large garage at the Border avenue address also provides a much greater capacity for storage purposes at low rates, Thompson further stated.

Among other changes made at the Chevrolet garage this week the used car lot, which was formerly located on the vacant lot immediately next to the Thompson garage, is now moved directly across Cabrillo.

Mr. Thompson came to Torrance two years ago and entered the automobile business. Since that time he has improved and enlarged his business to its present size.

New Store Open On Sartori Ave.

After two weeks of preparation the Sartori Liquor Store, owned and operated by Mrs. Jean Rebadow, and formerly located at 923 Sartori avenue, opened for business this week in its new location, 111 Sartori avenue.

Remodeling of the new location to meet the new store's needs by installing knotty pine paneling throughout the interior and by refacing the store front with glazed black and red tile has improved the appearance of the establishment considerably.

In addition to the new paneling the interior has also, by the construction of unique shelving designs, been arranged to appear like an antique wine market of the olden days. This effect is gained by the imitation eaves built at the top of the shelves similar to the shelters used in open air markets.

The installation of new equipment throughout including a new cooling unit capable of chilling 30 cases of beer at one time is another improvement afforded by the new store.

Because of the greater facilities of the location several additional lines of merchandise, including Roma wine, and a delicatessen counter for light lunches, have been added to the Sartori Liquor's stock. The fact that the establishment will remain open until 2 a. m. daily and will furnish delivery service at all times was also announced by the management.
